

ABSTRACT

A flexible floor covering with regenerative, soiling-resistant surfaces is disclosed, comprising a matrix based on natural or synthetic materials and at least one substance incompatible with said matrix. Said flexible floor covering preferably comprises a surface with a pre-determined structure and a matrix in which a particulate material harder than the matrix itself is embedded. The floor covering is characterized in having an improved soiling property and an increased wear resistance.